

Welcome!

Thank you for your interest in taking part in the survey, where we explore what graduates are doing 15 months after leaving university. Findings from the research will help current and future students gain an insight into career destinations and development. We are interested in finding out about the wide range of stages and various different career paths, circumstances and activities of graduates at this stage.

The survey is also of national significance as it allows policy makers, charities, journalists, researchers and others to understand the higher education sector and the state of the graduate labour market.

[DATA PROTECTION TEXT]

What were you doing at the start of the census week?

ASK ALL

A core objective of the Graduate Outcomes Survey is to take a census of all the activities that graduates from the UK Higher Education sector are engaged in around 15 months after they leave their studies. By activities we mean working, not working, studying, travelling or caring for someone.

For this survey we are going to focus on what you were doing in [census week] around 15 months after you graduated from [TEXT SUB: NAME OF INSTITUTION].
