Graduate Outcomes survey is coming soon

Dear graduate,

As an international graduate of UK higher education, I am writing to ask you to take part in the Graduate Outcomes survey. Please take part by clicking on the secure survey invitation link when you receive it from us in [month]. This link will be unique to you.

Share your experience and help future international students

The survey asks about your experience of higher education as an international graduate and what you are doing now, 15 months post-graduation. It includes some subjective questions too, about how you feel about your current activities and general wellbeing. Read our latest blog which shares how previous survey responses tell us more about the link between work, money, and wellbeing.

By taking the survey you will help future international students who are making choices on whether to choose the UK to study.

Supported by the British Council

We're working together to ensure that your survey responses are used to support future international students choosing the UK to study. Your insights can help to demonstrate UK higher education at its very best!
